

SUMMER STATER

Vol. I, No. 2

June 26, 1942

STUDENT BODY CARDS

YOU CAN'T MISS

No doubt many of you were startled, when paying registration fees, to hear a firm voice demand, "One dollar, please." Upon investigation you found that it wasn't an attempted holdup, but merely Dave Schutz selling Student Body Cards. Then you were probably surprised again to find that instead of an actual card, you received an ordinary paper receipt. But cards are being printed and may be obtained at room 119-B, College Hall.

Student Body Cards may still be bought at the Student Body Business Office. Summer Session can be fun if all will cooperate, because the more cards bought, the more activities we can have. A Student Body Card makes lower prices available to its holder on the items on the social calendar.

Show your patriotism to a school which is a working part of America. Buy a Student Body Card.

RECEPTION

Thursday afternoon the students had an opportunity to meet the faculty and fellow students at an informal reception.

Refreshments and entertainment were planned by Ella Mae Newby and La Verne Spear and their committees. Leighton Edelman provided the entertainment.

SUMMER STATER MAY BE OBTAINED each week at the information desk and in front of the library by presenting your student body card!

THEATER PARTY TONIGHT

An important item on the summer social calendar is going to be checked off tonight. It is the Dinner-Theater Party and promises to be most interesting. The dinner will be at the Monte Carlo Restaurant, 153 Mason, near Eddy. The meal is seventy-five cents. Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, professor of English and director of the Philosophy Hour, will be the speaker at the dinner party.

After dinner, the collegiate merry-makers will attend the play, "Life With Father", starring Percy Waram and Margalo Gillmore, at the Geary Theater.

If you are looking for a really good time, come along. Buy tickets at the information desk.

MUSIC LOVERS, PLEASE NOTE !

The comic opera, "The Abduction From Seraglio" by Mozart, will be presented in the Frederic Burk Auditorium on Wednesday, July 8th.

The opera will be conducted by Walter Herbert who is a refugee from Europe. He has long been interested in working with musical groups and produced "Orpheus in the Underworld" last year in the Greek Theater in Berkeley.

The group taking part in "The Abduction From Seraglio" has been selected by Mr. Herbert in order to further the interest of the public in good music.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hacker are the parents of a son.

FACULTY: DON'T FORGET TO ATTEND THE LUNCHEON - JULY 2.

EDITORIAL

When the times comes for relaxation, most of us think of sleep. But relaxation is associated not only with sleep but also with energy, for it comes with perfect repose combined with perfect energy. Everyone can attain this with practice. There are times when all of us feel melancholy and ill tempered but if we can forget these maladjustments and strengthen ourselves with rest gained from repose and energy, we will have found the essence of true relaxation. Although fatigue may seem to overpower, if we straighten up and bring back the sparkle in our eyes we will have forgotten our troubles.

WORKSHOP

The Workshop in Elementary Education provides an opportunity for teachers and administrators to concentrate summer session activities without classes on specific problems or fields of interest. Each student does individual work on a specific problem arising out of his own experience as a teacher or administrator.

Some students prepare material for their next year; some prepare for integrated or "core" programs; and others study modern practices and findings in a particular field.

Meetings are held to a minimum, but individual work is directed by Mr. D. Doane, Director; Miss Helen Thomas and Mrs. Jessie W. Williams, Staff advisors.

SPEAKEASY

Alfred Dixon of New York, featured in an "American Magazine" article, says the best American speech is heard in San Francisco. From this we assume that Mr. Dixon has not been listening to some of our choice phrases on the campus; that is, he has not been strolling down the corridor to College Hall from Anderson Hall.

Listening to many men and women speak from other parts of the world, our forty-eight states, and various cities, we may add that there is nothing more pleasing than an educated San Francisco woman speaking on a subject in which she is interested.

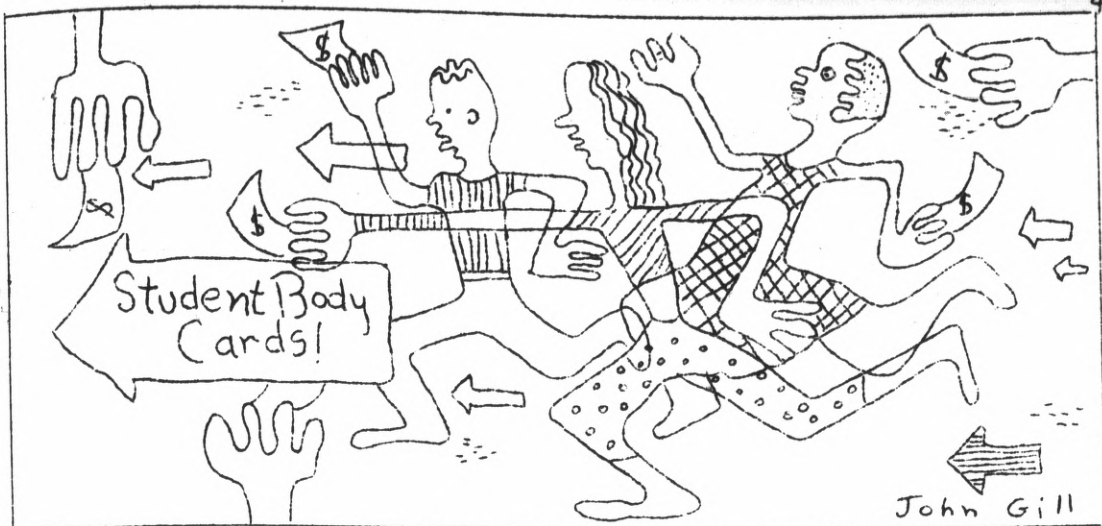

ITEMS

DR. GEORGE GIBSON has joined the airforce.

Students from the MUSIC WORKSHOP will publish a paper telling of their activities later in the term.

FRANCES YOUNG, vice-president of the Student Body, is engaged to JERRY BRADY.

Tickets for social activities may be purchased at the information desk.

THE PHILOSOPHY HOUR

"The Far East: An Interpretation" is the title of the discussion to be led by Dr. Theodore Treutlein, Professor of History, Wednesday, July, at 12:00 a. m., during the Philosophy Hour in Frederic Burk Auditorium. Dr. Treutlein will analyze various patterns of western imperialism. United States imperialism, so-called, is so much more closely related to a progressive concept of social evolution than are other examples of western imperialism, according to the speaker, that this present conflict may be called, in its first phase, an effort by the United States to make its principles of imperialism prevail.

The second phase of the war, as it has already developed, seems to be a calculated policy on the part of this government to lay the basis for a "Pacific Charter". The natural prerequisite for the actual writing of a Pacific Charter, believes Dr. Treutlein, is an elimination of the worst features of British, Dutch, and French imperialism, as well as the utter destruction of the Japanese military system.

TEXTBOOK DISPLAY

Textbooks for elementary and junior high schools are on display in hallways of Frederic Burk. Teachers are invited to examine these books.

SUMMER

I watched the water
Slapping against the shore
With ripples running across the floor
Of blue and green,
And I cupped my hands and drank the
water,
And sweet was the afternoon.

I listened to each chiming lark
And watched black crows fly in the air,
Wings swinging in sunlight.
Mass of yellow lupines repeating in
rolling fields,
Echoed birds warbling from reddening
treetops
Linger in warm and noisy summer.
Buzzing bumblebees scamper from
clovertops to thistle,
And the outlined darkgreen pines
against the blue
Stagger on the hilltop in the brushing
Of wind crushing
And crumbling calling leaves.
Soft whisper of pines mingles
With chattering blackbirds.
Out from the dozing underbrush
Strayed a golden beetle,
But disappearing in twining blackberries.

I stray like the beetle
In cooling saltwind, cleansing;
Brimming over the cup;
Again I drink.

AIR RAID DRILLS

Yesterday the college held it's first Air Raid Drill. On the whole it was satisfactory, but there is room for improvement. The first requisite for a successful drill is for the campus population to know how to get to shelters as quickly as possible, and as directly as possible.

Study the printed instructions which are posted in each classroom and ask questions of those who are in charge.

SIGNALS

FIRE-Three bells, pause (repeated).

AIR RAID-Continuous ringing.

ALL CLEAR-Single bell, (repeated).

HOME DEFENSE

To ease the minds of those who have inquired about home defense, it should be understood that State has it's own defense program. Dean Cox is in charge of "Fire Protection" and "Fire Fighting". Doctor Treutlien is in charge of "Emergency Safety". Mr. Kaufman is in charge of "Property Protection". Any students interested in helping on these groups should volunteer their services.

WANT SOME MORE STUDYING?

Post Session opening on Monday, August 3, will be offered by the college the three weeks immediately following the regular six week session. A maximum of four units may be carried. Post Session is designed with special attention to cultural information and insight with respect to present day world happenings, to worthwhile helps for teachers, and to practical help for newly appointed rural school teachers. A number of intensely interesting courses are offered. Many classes will be conducted as discussion groups.
